

Best Buys on the go

Head to Which.co.uk for Best Buy portable gadgets for music, film and internet

Technology is becoming ever more personal. Dinky devices that play music, show films, connect to the internet and even show us our location are becoming the norm. And with Which? Best Buys, there's no reason why your gadgets for use on the go should offer anything less than stellar quality.

Mobile devices have rapidly evolved over the years – huge-capacity MP3 players allow you to take your entire music collection with you, while portable DVD players can cost a fraction over £100 and keep the kids amused while on holiday. And, if you need to connect to the internet, there are laptops, netbooks and mobile phones that provide easy access without being tethered to a plug socket.

We've picked out seven Best Buy portable gadgets from our hundreds of tested products online – for more, pay a visit to www.which.co.uk/reviews.

1

LAPTOP APPLE MACBOOK 13 INCH 2GHZ, £799

www.which.co.uk/laptops

Apple's popular Macbook has a great keyboard, speedy start-up and a good battery that lasted six hours in our tests. Wireless connectivity is the best of any laptop we've tested, while the 13.4-inch screen is bright and clear. It scored 73% in our tests.

2

NETBOOK SAMSUNG NC10, £269

www.which.co.uk/netbooks

One of the best netbooks available, the NC10 scored 70% in testing and has a vibrant 10.2-inch screen, roomy 160GB hard drive, 1GB of memory and a decent keyboard that's almost full size. It has decent Wi-Fi and a great battery life of nine hours.

3

MOBILE PHONE APPLE IPHONE 3GS, £343

www.which.co.uk/mobilephones

One of the highest-scoring mobiles on test (79%), the iPhone 3GS offers a mix of iPod, mobile web access, GPS, plus a digital camera and camcorder. Battery life has improved over earlier models, giving nine to ten hours of talktime on a non-3G network.

4

PORTABLE DVD PLAYER SONY DVP-FX720

www.which.co.uk/portabledvdplayers

This Sony portable DVD player is better than most models we've tested, scoring 72%. It delivers nice, natural-looking images on its 7-inch screen. The sound is OK and disc noise, unlike some other players, is acceptably low.

Millie's Café

ON-THE-GO BEST BUYS

which?
BEST BUY

4

which?
BEST BUY

5

which?
BEST BUY

6

7

which?
BEST BUY

5

PORTABLE RADIO
ROBERTS RD60, £130
www.which.co.uk/radios
Good sound quality and easy-to-use controls are what help to make this portable DAB and FM model a Best Buy, scoring 79%. It can run on four D-size batteries (not included), which lasted for 93.5 hours of continuous use in our tests.

6

MP3 PLAYER
SAMSUNG YP-P3, FROM £129
www.which.co.uk/mp3players
With great sound quality, top marks for ease of use and lightning-speed music uploading, this Samsung player scored 80% in our tests, beating its main rival the Apple iPod Touch. It comes in 8GB, 16GB and 32GB versions and has an FM radio.

7

HEADPHONES
SENNHEISER PX 100, £30
www.which.co.uk/headphones
These on-ear headphones are great value and scored 72% in our tests. Sound is clear and bright with gwood, full bass. They are light (65g) and compact – perfect for portable use – and you can fold them up and fit them into the supplied hard case.

Which.co.uk

Interactive iPhone 3GS

Wondering whether Apple's Best Buy iPhone 3GS lives up to the hype? Take it for a test drive with our interactive version at www.which.co.uk/iphone3gs, and watch our video reviews of its GPS, compass, video camera and still camera features.