Video of the latest gadgets

Want to see all the latest gadgets and gizmos from the Consumer Electronics Show in action? If so, check out which.co.uk for videos of the latest super-slim televisions and the futuristic Sony Rolly dancing MP3 player doing its thing.

Our footage also shows what the Panasonic interactive Lifewall can do, and there's a demonstration of the Sony eBook. Could the Femisapien be a future bestseller? Head to www.which.co.uk/ces to check out her moves.

Fitting a child car seat video

Up to four in five car seats in the UK are not fitted properly, but our new video guide shows you how to make sure your child's seat is the right one for their age and size, and how to install it safely and correctly. We also highlight the problems to look out for, such as buckle crunch, and tackle tricky questions about which seat to use, what to do about airbags and the various mounting options available. Go to www.which.co.uk/childcarseatsvideo to see the video.

WHICH? PODCAST

Listen to our latest podcast to find out why the internet could be the future of TV. We'll explain BBC and ITV plans to let you watch TV via the web, where to go to download Channel 4 episodes you've missed, and what all this really means for traditional broadcasters and the aerial on your house (if you still have one...). Plus there's the usual round-up of consumer news and how it affects you. Visit www.which.co.uk/podcast to access this podcast.
